CEA Files Step 2 Grievance as District Attempts to Outsource a Portion of Pre-K Instruction

On Nov. 2, 2021, CEA filed a Step Two Grievance against the District alleging violation of certain provisions of the CEA-CCS Master Agreement and the 2021–2022 BlendED MOU. The dispute follows action taken at the Oct. 5 CCS Board of Education Meeting, where the Board approved a $2.5 million dollar contract with Waterford Institute to provide online instruction for Pre-K students living within the District (but not currently attending a CCS brick and mortar Pre-K class). According to the contract with the company, CCS is responsible for recruitment and registration of students. Waterford will provide a laptop, learning software, and “student support,” which includes progress monitoring, parent training, and student assessments by Waterford employees.

CEA’s position is that this contract with Waterford represents the outsourcing of bargaining unit work and an attempted end-around of the BlendED MOU.

The recognition article of our Master Agreement (Article 101) states that in addition to regular teachers, “Teachers shall also mean other regular full-time professional staff members, except classified and civil-service type personnel and except instructional assistants and educational media aides. The work of Waterford employees described in the contract who are involved in progress monitoring, parent training, and student assessments clearly falls under this provision and should be performed by CEA bargaining unit members.

In addition, the intent of the 2021–2022 BlendED MOU was to define the scope of online instruction for the 2021–2022 School Year. The very first sentence of the MOU is “Columbus City Schools will be offering BlendED, a new online Pre-K through 12 program that also includes some in person learning, for the 2021–2022 school year, with BlendED staff working onsite.” The creation of a second, outsourced “alter-ego” CCS Pre-K online learning operation is a blatant violation of the spirit, intent, and plain language of this agreement.

While CEA is certainly disappointed that the District continues to pursue a policy of catch us if you can rather than working together, it was most shocking for your CEA leadership to learn that while the agreement with Waterford was signed Aug. 24, the District Employee Relations staff responsible for contract compliance were not even told of the plan until mid-October. Nevertheless, CEA will continue to enforce our agreements with the district and defend our bargaining unit work.
